

Incredible Cohorts

Creating cohorts that are

Fun to be with!

Well, borrowing from the introductory elements of our Young Rhythms Camp we help set the environment for healthy and optimistic interactions right across the cohort. If delivered early in their secondary school journey these benefits progressively permeate the entire student population.

In a highly energetic DAY PROGRAM format delivered on your campus, the whole cohort will learn more about each other and will learn a shared personal communications framework. They will also importantly be introduced to an optimistic way of thinking and approaching issues that we call AROw and SNAP. Some schools even have a 'SNAP WALL' as a permanent fixture and focal point!

Customised materials are provided for you to send parents so they can learn about and give the space for the new skills to develop in the home as well – this is important.

The Incredible Cohorts program is a natural lead-in to the Young Rhythms Camp program.

We all have stories of cohorts, one year they are a dream and constantly surprise and inspire us, the next year they are a malaise of issues, and building momentum drains your energy all year long.
